KITCHEN KORNER

Here is another dish to try. It seems we are all going to get pickled. First it was carrots then okra and next I guess it will be us. This sounds good tho so why don't you try it.

Pickled Okra

2 teaspoons dill seed
2 pkg. (10 oz. size) Frozen Okra, thawed & drained, or use fresh if you prefer.
2 dried peppers (I also add 1 fresh red hot pepper)
2 canned chile peppers
4 cloves garlic peeled
1¼ cup white vinegar
½ cup water
3 tablespoons salt

Sterilize 2 pint jars & lids keeping hot in water until ready to use. Place ½ teaspoon dill seed in botton of each jar. Pack okra in jars being careful not to break pods and put on top in each jar ½ teaspoon dill seed, 1 red pepper, 1 chile pepper and 2 cloves garlic.

Bring to boil, vinegar, salt and water. Pour over top of each jar and seal. Let stand at room temperature until cooled completely. Refrigerate at least 2 weeks before serving.
